1. It is becoming increasingly evident that American dependence on foreign oil, especially oil from countries that support and/or export radical Islamic ideology and terrorism, provides a considerable economic stimulus to the oil sector, at least in the following primary oil-dependent sectors:

- a. The economic stimulus provided by the oil industry has been considerable, but neither the oil industry nor the transportation sector has proposed any measures to reduce our dependence on foreign oil. The oil industry has sponsored legislation which would require all new vehicles warranted to operate on gasoline, ethanol, and methanol, or be warranted to operate on biodiesel.
