1. It is becoming increasingly evident that American dependence on foreign oil, especially oil from countries that support and/or export radical Islamic ideology and terrorism, provides a considerable portion of the transportation sector, at least in the following petroleum products: gasoline, diesel, and jet fuel. While there have been some efforts to diversify the transportation sector, neither ethanol nor biodiesel have been able to displace fossil fuels, and neither ethanol nor biodiesel are currently used in any significant amount. The transportation sector is still heavily dependent on foreign oil.
